

ABC Imaging taps Mike Canino to lead its growing facilities management operations

ABC Imaging recently hired industry veteran, Michael R. Canino, as Vice President FM Operations. With his extensive reprographic and management experience, Mr. Canino will lead the fast growing FM Division as it ramps up to serve new clients.

Washington, DC—November 20, 2009—ABC Imaging, a Washington, DC-based provider of comprehensive print and reprographic services, announced today that Michael R. Canino has joined its management team as Vice President-FM Operations.

ABC Imaging's FM (Facilities Management) operations provide on-site printing and office support services to more than 300 client sites in North America. Also known as the company's "Partnership for Success" program, the FM operations offers technology solutions that integrate with the client's systems and provide a range of services that streamline operations.

"ABC Imaging is very happy to have Mike join our team," said Medi Falsafi, President and CEO. "We especially like his background in reprographics. We know that Mike will be a valuable contributor to the continued success of our FM operations."

Mr. Canino, a 25-year reprographic industry veteran, has extensive experience as an executive manager. He led the effort in 2001 when American Reprographics Services (ARC) consolidated the operations of three east coast reprographic firms in Maryland, Virginia, and the District of Columbia. Most recently, Mr. Canino was at Xerox Corporation where he had direct sales responsibilities.

"I'm very excited to be here," Mr. Canino said. "This is a terrific opportunity--to be part of the growth of the FM division at ABC Imaging. As an industry leader, the company is in a great position to expand these services."

After beginning his career at Centennial Blueprint in the Philadelphia, PA area, Mr. Canino was employed by Ridgway's. He progressed through a series of management positions before becoming a division president in the Washington metropolitan area.
