ABC Imaging to manage printing and reprographic services at Perkins+Will offices. Installation of equipment and software has begun and will continue into early 2010. The rollout includes installation of ABC Imaging's proprietary printing management software.

Washington, DC—December 29, 2009—ABC Imaging, a Washington, DC-based provider of comprehensive print and reprographic services, has been awarded the Perkins+Will firm-wide reprographics contract.

Perkins+Will is an integrated design firm serving clients from 21 offices around the world. The firm practices “architecture, interiors, branded environments, planning + strategies and urban design with clients in the aviation + transit, corporate + commercial + civic, healthcare, higher education, K-12 education, and science + technology markets.” Perkins+Will has chosen ABC Imaging to provide on-site in-house reprographic facilities management as well as off-site support to its architects, designers, and staff.

ABC Imaging provides a complete line of innovative printing services to the architectural, design and engineering community, as well as providing a turnkey Facilities Management program like none other in the industry. Founded in 1982, ABC Imaging has grown nationally and internationally to more than 25 stores and more than 300 on-site printing and reprographics locations.

Rich Nitzsche, Chief Information Officer of Perkins+Will says “Perkins+Will is confident that the ABC relationship will provide an outstanding platform for integrating all of our offices with the same level of quality output, attention to detail, and the highest commitment to customer satisfaction.”

ABC Imaging leads the industry in innovative applications that help clients achieve high quality, which they support with exceptional service by a dedicated staff committed to client satisfaction. ABC Imaging CEO and
